Sometime last night—nobody seems to know when—somebody—nobody seems to know who or how many—drove through an alley in the Fifth Ward and went headlong,—horse, buggy and all,—over the railway bank East of Commerce street. A pool of blood and a tearing up of the dirt were the only evidences of the tumble. Wonder where they'd been, who they were, and where they went?

WHAT HE PROMISES OUR CITY.

ZANESVILLE, O., April 14th, 1897.

Editor Public Ledger, Maysville, Ky.—

My Dear Sir: I have just returned from Knoxville, Tenn., and am due there again on the 14th prox. to attend the annual election officers and Directors of the two lines in Tennessee—the Ohio River, Knoxville and Tidewater, (the main line,) and the Knoxville Junction Terminal and Belt Line, (a 30-mile belt to encircle the great marble deposits around the city of Knoxville.) I hope to get through and reach your city by the following Saturday, the 8th of May, by the 10th prox. at the outside, so look out for me. What Maysville needs and demands is the line North of the Ohio river, which will then insure a bridge between Maysville and Aberdeen, and at the same time will bring the railroad along the North bank of the Ohio river between Aberdeen and New Richmond.

I am anxious to prepare my plans so as to get the surveyors in the field between Aberdeen, via West Union, and Columbus by June 1st.

Enjoying the hope that your people will see that the only way to get a railroad built is for all to do their full duty, and if they will I will do the rest; and to that end I hereby pledge my honor to push the work on the Ohio River Division of the Columbus, Ohio River and Tidewater Railway Co. and make it the first line of the Black Diamond, North of the Ohio river, to be put under construction. Respectfully,

Alfred C. Boone

Mr. Jesse B. Roper, the clever and accommodating proprietor of the "New Era" Restaurant, and Miss Nellie Means, daughter of Mr. Q. A. Means, will wed tomorrow.

Eyesight

Is of such great value that one ought to take more than ordinary precautions to guard against every possible trouble.

If you have even a remote suspicion that there is any trouble with your eyes it will be for your own best interests to have your vision tested and trouble, if any, removed.

Very simple troubles may develop serious results if not properly treated.

Ordinary failing eyesight receives our most careful attention, both as to glasses and frames.

It's just as important to have the right frame as the right glass, and from our large stock we can give you the correct thing in either Gold, Silver or Steel.

We make no charge for examinations, and if yours is a case requiring the services of an oculist we will frankly tell you so.

BALLENGER, Jeweler.

South Side Second Street.

Northfork—C. N. Bollinger.
Springdale—W. S. Tully.
Millicreek—Miss Hannah Collins.
Minerva—Mrs. M. M. Watson, Miss Pearl Clarke.

On motion of Mr. W. H. Cox, the Committee respectfully declined to recommend in any case where there is a contest between two Republicans, those cases being referred to Congressman Pugh for settlement.

Then these applicants were indorsed by the Committee; and all others on the list were passed, according to Mr. Cox's motion:

Plumville—Mrs. Mattie E. Davis, Helena—T. F. Kiff.
Peed—Joseph W. Williams, Orangeburg—D. G. Wilson.

Subsequently a motion carried to recommend Mr. W. L. Moran for Morantown and Mr. J. William Pepper for Germantown; but later on the action as to Morantown was reconsidered and left without recommendation, while a motion to reconsider the Morantown case failed; and this in spite of the statement by a member of the Committee that Mr. Pugh had requested that no recommendation be made for the latter office.

The names of Drs. Samuel Pangburn and W. S. Yazell of this city, Dr. Alex. Hunter of Washington and Dr. J. T. Gaines of Orangeburg were presented for indorsement as Pension Examining Surgeons, and Drs. Pangburn, Hunter and Gaines were indorsed by the Committee.

The Sir Francis Drake fortune, which had quite a run here a good many years since, has been revived, this time at Newcastle, Pa., where the claimants held a meeting a few days ago to consider ways and means whereby they might get hold of the strong case holding the untold millions. It was estimated there were $300,000,000 awaiting them. John Taylor of Warren county, a namesake of John Drake Taylor who was a lineal descendant of the great Admiral Sir Francis Drake, is one of the claimants to the immense estate said to have been left by the great rover.
